Grades: 1-adult

Subject: Any Subject

Group: 8+

Materials: A set of game cards
optional: timer

Procedure:

1. Make a set of game cards using the template provided. Begin with the card that has "start" on it. Write a question on the bottom of the card. Write the answer on the top of the next card. Then write a new question on the bottom of the card, and the answer on the top of the next card. Continue until you have written all the questions you want. You need at least 8-10 cards for the game to be fun, but you can have up to 1 per student in your class. On the last card, write "start?" to loop the game back around to the first card.
2. Remove the title card and instructions. Mix up the game cards and pass them out, one per student.
3. Instruct students to read their cards silently and think about what question their card answers.
4. If desired, allow students to pair with a partner to read the card and make sure they know what it means.
5. The student who has START begins the game by reading his or her card.
6. Play continues by students answering each previous student by reading the corresponding card. The game ends when the last card has been read, and play returns to the first player.
7. If desired, play the game again once or twice. Use a timer to see how fast students can play the game.

Modifications:

- After playing the game, put the cards in a center. Students can stack the cards in order.
- Give one card to each pair of students if the topic is difficult or students struggle with the topic.

How to play:
Remove title card and instructions.
Shuffle the remaining cards and pass them all out.
The student who has START begins the game by reading his or her card. Play continues by students answering each previous student by reading the corresponding card. The game ends when the last card has been read, and play returns to the first player.
